This FIDIC module 1 course is successfully attended by consulting engineers, procurement officers, banking officers, project managers, lawyers and other professionals of the construction consulting industry, wishing to increase their knowledge of FIDIC contracts and benefit from practical insights.

The online training Module 1 on Practical Use of the FIDIC Red Book 1999 and 2017 offers a complete and comprehensive overview of the FIDIC Red Book & Yellow Book (Conditions of Contract for Construction 2017), and also provides a comfortable learning process. The programme is based on lectures in combination with case studies and includes a comparison of the FIDIC Yellow Book and the FIDIC Red Book.

The emphasis is on the understanding on how to use, read and understand the FIDIC Red & Yellow Book in practice. Users will better understand on how to prepare tender documents (in line with the Procurement Procedures Guide) and how to properly administer and manage a FIDIC contract from the contractor's, employer's and the engineer's perspective.

Participants will be provided with a comprehensive set of training materials including checklists, templates and a comparative table FIDIC 1999/2017.

The course is held by Dr. Götz-Sebastian Hök, an experienced adjudicator and FIDIC trainer with in depth experience in Botswana.
